

Firm finds discrepancies in Madison accounts

By DONNA KIMBRO
Staff writer

MADISON - Mispliced or missing rental agreements, bank statements, cancelled checks and personnel files are cited in an audit of city records and controls.

Madison aldermen received the report Tuesday night. They will study it and then take corrective action at their next meeting Sept. 24.

PEAT, MARWICK, Mitchell & Co., certified public accountants in St. Louis, were hired to prepare a financial statement for the municipality's May 1984-April 1985 year.

The document listed other deficiencies in the filing system as including uncertainty as to the proper file location of various items, and inconsistent or nonexistent record-retention policies.

Suggested procedural changes have been outlined and a representative of the accounting firm will attend Sept. 24 to review and explain the findings, Fred Bathon, city treasurer, said.

AMONG SUGGESTIONS is that a new approach be taken in monitoring compliance with city appropriation policies.

The accounting firm said there are no specific procedures in effect for the recording of cash receipts.

The city in 1984-85 did not maintain a formal cash receipts journal, nor was a formal estimate made of anticipated revenues in connection with the annual budget process.

AS A CONSEQUENCE, receipts could either be deposited but unrecorded or not deposited at all and go undetected in the system, Peat, Marwick said.

Along with better control of cash, it recommended the council adopt a formal revenue estimate during the budget process and compare this estimate periodically to actual receipts.

The city used a one-write system for recording all disbursements other than payroll. There was no comprehensive general ledger system to record financial transactions. As a result, overall financial data for the city was not available on an interim basis, aldermen were told.

THE CITY IS NOW in the process of implementing a general ledger system for the fiscal year that

Village street job vetoed by Wilson

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
Staff writer

PONTOON BEACH - Rosewell Bennett Jr. is without his street superintendent's job after Village Board President Glen Wilson used his veto power Tuesday. It was the first time Wilson used veto powers since he became board president a year ago.

The street superintendent's position was created and Bennett was appointed during the last Village Board meeting Aug. 29. At the meeting, Wilson, who can vote to break a tie, objected to the action, and trustees Bob Vincent and Bob Abel voted against creating the position.

THE STREET superintendent was to be paid $8 an hour for a 40-hour week.

During Tuesday's Village Board meeting, Wilson said the veto was based upon the fact that the village does not have a road or street department.

"There is no current need for a street department nor a street department commissioner because the Village of Pontoon Beach contracts out (with Nameoki Township) for road maintenance at the present time, and until there were such changes in the contract, the position would simply be a waste of public funds," he said.

WILSON ALSO objected to the appointment of a specific person "without any knowledge as to his background in road maintenance, design, inspection or engineering. I feel that Pontoon Beach should be a community that grows and develops its own departments and commissions; however, I feel that the most qualified people should be appointed to these positions. I feel it is necessary to make some kind of personnel search to find the most qualified and those with the best backgrounds."

Allen hands over Lahr ballot question to attorney general

By DAVE WHALEY
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY - A citizen's request to remove Ruth Lahr's name from the school board ballot has been forwarded to the Illinois attorney general.

Dick Allen, Madison County state's attorney, said he did some preliminary work with the case but preferred sending it to the attorney general, because of his (Allen's) local connections.

"I decided that was the best thing to do," Allen said Wednesday. "Since I am close to the situation, I thought the best thing to do - to be objective - was to send it to the (Neil Hartigan) office."

ALLEN SAID HE WOULD expect a decision to come back from Springfield "in the next two weeks, probably. It depends on how energetic they are in his office."

Bob Crider of Granite City, the father of school board member Alvin Crider, said at the Sept. 2 board meeting he was requesting that Allen seek to remove Lahr's name from the ballot because she is a former employee of the district and is receiving retirement benefits.

Crider quoted Section 10-9 of the Illinois school code which states that no board member can be involved in "any contract work or business of the district."

ALLEN WAS UNSURE if that section applied to Lahr. "She is receiving retirement benefits from District 9, but I'm not so sure that's the type of contract work referred to in the code," he said. "I take it to mean doing some sort of business with the district and it's apparent to me she's not in that

Drive-up service lacking at fire department

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY - A fire nearly got the better of a 1987 pickup truck when its driver found no one at home at the West Granite fire station.

Jack Est, owner of the Garbage Gremlin, an independent hauling company, said he was returning from a routine hauling job Wednesday when he noticed the bed of his truck was on fire.

EST SAID A CIGARETTE apparently ignited some newspapers on the bottom of the bed of the truck. The fire then spread to the load of shingles he was hauling.

Since he was on Rock Road, Est pulled his truck into the lot at the West Granite fire station.

"I pounded on the door, but no one answered," he said. "There were two cars in the parking lot but no one was there."

EST SAID HE RAN around the side of the building, looking for an outside water outlet, but could find none. He then began going door-to-door at nearby residences but could get no response.

Est then drove his truck to the 7-Eleven store at Niedringhaus Avenue and 19th Street.

"I told them my truck was on fire and they gave me six 5-gallon buckets of water to put out the fire," he said.

AFTER PUTTING OUT the fire, Est was headed toward Route 162 when he noticed the fire had rekindled. Est decided to go to a fire station again, this time the main station at 23rd Street and Madison Avenue.

When he arrived, firefighters extinguished the blaze.

"I told the firemen I had been to the West Granite fire station and no one was there," he said. "I asked them why the station wasn't manned and they told me the firemen were out on inspections."

EST SAID DESPITE the length of time the load was burning, his truck was not damaged.

Assistant Fire Chief Walmer Schmidtke said the lack of personnel at the West Granite fire station is a usual procedure when inspections are being conducted.

"Every fire station inspects the buildings in their own areas," he said.

SCHMIDTKE SAID it would be "silly" to have a fireman stay at the station because fire calls are dispatched through the main fire station.

"If there was a fire call, the man driving the truck would have to go back to the station and pick up the other man. They would lose a lot of time that way."

Schmidtke said Est's situation was an unusual one.

"WE DON'T GET too much drive-up trade," he said.

Final agreement near for Dobrey well plan

NAMEOKI - Agreements to operate a well in the Dobrey Slough area may be signed by the end of this week.

Nameoki Township, Granite City and Metro-East Sanitary District officials have verbally agreed to share in the maintenance and operation of the well in an attempt to reduce the underground water level in the slough area.

NAMEOKI TOWNSHIP attorney Irv Slate Jr. is drawing up formal agreements, which should be signed by the three taxing bodies by Friday, Sept. 13, according to Nameoki Township Trustee Norm Hall, who has been working to obtain the well.

He hopes another agreement will be signed this week by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cooper, the property owners of the well site

WRAP-AROUND PORCH dominates this view of a Victorian-styled home at 2209 Delmar Ave. presently owned by Attorney and Mrs. John Hopkins. It was the first residence built on Delmar. Hopkins' home has a legal legacy

By DONNA KIMBRO
Staff writer

The first house built on Delmar Avenue - now owned by Attorney and Mrs. John Hopkins of 2209 Delmar Ave. - will be included in the Sept. 29 downtown house tour.

This will be the first fall tour sponsored by the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society. Its previous public tours of restored homes began in 1974 but were always in the spring.

THE HOME ON DELMAR was a typical family dwelling when constructed. The architecture is reminiscent of the Victorian era.

A "wrap around" porch encloses the front facade and curves around the side, including bay windows in the dining room.

Presently painted in deep green accented with cream trim, the exterior will be repainted after the tour in colonial cream and trimmed with brown peaks. Brick-red and blue will be used for the moldings and porch pillars.

IT WAS DESIGNED with a large entry foyer, with an oak stairway on the right leading upstairs to three bedrooms, a sewing room, a family room and a bathroom.

A library is on the left and through this room is the living and dining room area. This part of the residence impresses visitors as airy and light, enhanced by the light from the bay windows. Moldings around the room at chair level are in a muted rose color.

According to the early documents of the house, the light fixtures were all changed in 1924 and these are still in use.

AN UNUSUAL FACET of the home relates to the owners, four of them being local attorneys. The first was Morgan LeMaster, who also served Granite City as its second mayor.

Among the owners was Attorney Harry Faulkner, and the present owner is an attorney.

Due to a need to upgrade the electrical installation of the house, it was entirely rewired last year.

A ceiling fan has been put in the kitchen and the wooden cabinets there have been stained in a walnut shade.

Granite City man pleads guilty to child cruelty

Gary Krech, 33, of 2241 Monroe St. pleaded guilty Aug. 18 to cruelty to a child. Madison County Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill sentenced Krech to one year of conditional discharge and ordered him to pay $90 in court costs.

Krech was charged May 8 after an investigation by Granite City police. They alleged he beat five children with a paddle.

Utility activists canvassing area

Self-styled "activists" of the Illinois Public Action Council, the state's largest consumer lobby, are conducting their annual support drive in the Granite City area. Canvassers include Peggy Frederick of Granite City.

Public Action was formed in 1976 and has helped pass bills considered of value to Illinois residents. Among these are the homestead exemption, gradual abolition of the state's food and medicine tax, emergency farm credit for farmers, and tougher penalties for violators of nursing home regulations.

Illinois Public Action Council canvassers knock on doors between 4 p.m. and 9 p.m. They have clipboards and picture ID cards. The canvass generates the bulk of Public Action's political and financial support.

This year, the canvass is informing residents about Senate Bill 1021, the Illinois Public Utilities Act, which is awaiting the signature of Gov. James Thompson. It includes fuel efficiency incentives, long-term energy planning, open commerce commission meetings and a public council to represent consumers in rate cases.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

Grandparents sometimes inquire as to whether or not they have a legal right to visitation with their grandchildren. Prior to 1983, if the parents denied the grandparents visitation, the Court would require it only if the grandparents could show "special circumstances."

This requirement was modified by statute, and Illinois law now expressly provides for grandparent visitation in certain situations. If there is a dissolution of marriage or the death of a parent, the Court can grant such visitation if it is in the best interest of the child.

Recently an Illinois Appellate Court was faced with an appeal from a grandmother which attempted to carry this right one step further. In this case, the parents were not getting a divorce nor was there a death of one spouse. Rather, the parents simply did not want the grandmother to see the child. The grandmother brought suit against her son and his wife seeking a Court order which would require them to grant her visitation with her only grandchild.

By way of background, the woman bringing this action was the natural mother of the child's father. Her granddaughter was born in April of 1963, four months after the new law on grandparental visitation went into effect. The grandmother alleged in her complaint that since the birth of the granddaughter, she had repeatedly asked the parents to grant her some type of reasonable visitation, but that all these requests had been denied. Apparently it was conceded by all parties to this suit that the grandmother was a happily married woman who enjoyed a good reputation in the community and was financially well-off.

Should the Courts require the parents to allow the grandmother visitation under these circumstances? The Court in this case refused to require the parents to allow visitation with the father's mother. The Court felt that the intent of the legislators was that such visitation only be allowed in cases where there was divorce or the death of one parent. Since this was not involved in this instance, the trial Court lacked jurisdiction to hear the case. The Appellate Court noted that it was sympathetic to the grandmother's plight, but that the obligation of the parents to grant her visitation was a moral obligation rather than a legal one.

Babysitting clinic planned

Many adolescents babysit for extra money. Unfortunately, they aren't always trained to insure the safety of children, according to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, which is offering a Babysitting Clinic on Saturday, Oct. 5, from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at McKinley School, 22nd and Iowa streets.

Parking is available. Anyone 12 years of age or older is welcome, a spokesman said.

The clinic will be taught by SEMC registered nurses and the SEMC director of safety. Topics will include selecting a babysitting job, job responsibilities, child care and safety, entertaining the child, first-aid, poison control, fire, safety, and answering the telephone.

Cost for the clinic is $5 and that covers the cost of all materials used. Certificates will be awarded upon completion of the clinic. Enrollment will be limited to 50 participants.

Applicants must pre-register and then pay for the clinic by Oct. 5. For information and registration, they may call St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 786-3167.

Council OKs $2.8 million tax levy

GRANITE CITY — A $2.8 million 1985-86 real estate tax levy, an increase of $1,773 over last year's levy, was approved by City Council members Tuesday.

Major additions noted in the 1985-86 levy include $30,000 for the new position of a city coordinator and a $117,000 payback to the general fund from the city's wastewater treatment plant.

Major deletions this year include $200,000 for non-budgeted salary increases, $479,468 for a reduction in sewer break costs, $227,000 for the Housing and Urban Development jobs bill, $131,000 for equipment and roof appropriations and $45,000 for capital project funding.

The city government's total anticipated revenue from all types of taxes is $5 million, or $547,622 more than last year's anticipated income. This includes sales, utility and corporate personal property replacement taxes.

Hearings set on insurance

The Illinois Department of Insurance is planning a series of statewide public hearings in October to identify the specific insurance availability problems facing various interest groups. Sites and dates have not been chosen.

"For the past several months, we've been talking to insurers, reinsurers, producers, legislators, and other regulators about the growing problems in the commercial lines market," said Insurance Director John E. Washburn.

"These hearings will give us an opportunity to hear directly from the policyholders who are most affected by cancellation of coverage and rising insurance costs. We hope to meet with school districts, contractors, municipalities, and any other group experiencing problems with their liability coverage."

The hearings are part of the Illinois Department's continuing effort to improve the state's commercial lines market. Thus far, the Department has:

1. Sponsored a conference of key legislators and insurance industry representatives at which Washburn cautioned against "hit and run" cancellations and announced that the property/casualty industry would be under "close observation."
2. Held a follow-up meeting with insurance producers and company management to discuss more definitive solutions.
3. Established an Internal Market Assistance Section to handle on a full-time basis the growing volume of correspondence and telephone calls relating to availability problems and to assist consumers in finding insurance; and
4. Issued a strongly worded warning to all Illinois commercial lines carriers to "cease abusive practices or face statutory restrictions" on their current rate-setting freedom.

Energy audit plan approval probable

Utilities will likely be required to make available energy audits to apartment buildings and small business firms under a rule given preliminary approval by the Illinois Commerce Commission.

Currently, electric and gas utilities are required to make available energy conservation programs for residential customers.

The proposed rule would expand that to include rental apartment structures and small firms.

A series of public hearings will be held to determine how the program will be operated, what fees will be charged and how utility companies can recover the cost for performing the energy use reviews.

Utility representatives will participate in the planning and will be required to develop market plans to inform customers about the conservation service.

Madison passes wage ordinance

By DONNA KIMBRO
Staff writer

MADISON—An ordinance setting wages and salaries for employees and officers of the city was approved Tuesday night by the City Council.

Salary increases were provided for the police, street and sewer departments and for the librarian and will be retroactive to May 1, 1985.

HOLIDAY PAY (work done on holidays) has been made a part of the base salary of employees in the police and street departments, in contrast to the previous procedure. The librarian previously was paid $10,600 a year and will now receive $12,600 annually.

Police Sergeants William Fanning, Charles Bridick and Paul Bargiel will receive $20,342 a year instead of the previous $19,971 base pay. A $391 increase was granted to Patrolman Don Bridick, bringing his total to $19,214.

Patrolman Steve Skoklo and Probationary Patrolmen Richard Ballew, Curtis Bradley, David Moonshagian and Steve Shelby will each receive $17,791, an increase of $516.

ROBBIE ROBBINS, superintendent of streets, will be paid $24,100 in 1985-86. The pay of six members of the street and sewer department will range from $15,160 to $16,922. Three refuse department workers' pay will be $16,922 each. Two alarm system employees will be paid $15,543 each.

Legislation aids veterans, senior citizens, children

By REP. SAM WOLF

Practically all of the legislation passed by the General Assembly during the last session is now in the hands of the governor for further action. So far, the governor, with the exception of a few minor bills, has signed most appropriation bills, such as the state's budget and bills to fund specific programs.

He has signed a few substantive bills, including legislation dealing with senior citizens, veterans and children.

So far, three senior citizen bills have been signed. One of which would allow the state to distribute an official Senior Citizen Discount Card.

Although many businesses offer senior discounts on purchases, it can become time-consuming when a senior citizen has to prove eligibility.

The new cards will be distributed through the Secretary of State's Office and will allow instant recognition by merchants around the state in an effort to help cut through red tape in proving eligibility.

Another legislative act authorizes the secretary of state to collect information on services and products available for senior citizen discounts and to publish the information in a statewide directory.

The directory will enhance the usefulness of the Senior Citizen Discount card and also provide a strong incentive to business to offer discounts to seniors.

A third measure provides for the preliminary costs of implementing the new Alzheimer's Disease Assistance Act by appropriating $200,000. A seven-bill package setting up numerous Alzheimer programs is on the governor's desk awaiting his signature.

A number of bills affecting some of the state's war veterans have now been signed for approval by the governor. One would allow prisoners of war free license plates to be used on lightweight trucks. Current law only allows POW plates to be used on cars.

Under the bill POWs may use the free plates on trucks weighing 8,000 pounds or less beginning in 1987 and subsequent registration years. Each POW eligible for the plates will be able to obtain one set of free license plates and, if he owns a car and a light truck, choose which vehicle to designate for the plates.

Former prisoners of war who are Illinois residents would be exempt from all camping and admission fees at state parks run by the Illinois

Council approval was given for two police officers to attend police conventions and to be provided $150 each for expenses. Charles Bridick will attend a meeting in Peoria Oct. 4-6 and William Fanning will attend sessions Sept. 20-22 in Rosemont.

THE POLICE BOARD reported on its review of the suspension of former Patrolman Thomas Voloski. It concluded that, because of insufficient evidence, he should be reimbursed $328 for loss of pay in the Feb. 7-9, 1984, period. A former chief of police, Don Bridick, had suspended Voloski. All aldermen voted in favor of the reimbursement.

Chief of Police William Papa announced Patrolman Skoklo is attending the St. Louis Police Academy for training with a dog; a canine that will become a part of the police department.

The patrolman is taking the training on his own time and is continuing his regular duties with the department, Papa said.

GARY MARSALA, on behalf of Explorer Post 10-4, requested council permission for the post to meet in the City Hall meeting room. It is police-related, studying law enforcement.

After Mayor John Bellicoff said, "Let's bring them back where they belong," the aldermen approved the request. The post previously met in the City Hall but had to find another meeting location when the room it utilized was renovated for another use.

Department of Conservation.

In 1983, disabled veterans were granted the cost exemption at state parks. Now, former POWs will be afforded the same privilege of obtaining a free use permit from the Illinois Department of Conservation. Fewer than 500 Korean War and Vietnam War veterans who were prisoners of war will be eligible for the exemption.

Veterans with service-connected disabilities, under a third bill, will receive increased state assistance if they desire special disability adapted housing.

This legislation will provide increased state assistance of $2,000 to a total of $12,000. The increase was necessary, since the federal government recently increased its assistance to $37,500 and the Illinois Department of Veterans Affairs attempts to match approximately one-third of the federal assistance.

The measure also increases to $2,000 from $1,670 the amount the state will pay a veteran with a service-connected disability for adapting existing housing to his or her special needs.

Chances of prosecutors obtaining a conviction in child luring cases will increase under a bill signed into law by the governor. This bill was necessary, as current state statutes do not provide for a specific "child luring" charge.

Sometimes the strongest charge used is taking indecent liberties with a child or contributing to the delinquency of a minor, which in either case is hard to prove or carries a much lighter sentence.

Under the new law, any one who successfully lures a child into a vehicle or attempts to lure a child into a vehicle can be charged under the state's child abduction statutes.

Child luring convictions could result in a prison term of up to three years and a fine of $10,000, and attempted child luring convictions could carry a one-year prison term and up to a $1,000 fine.

This bill will put some teeth into our criminal justice system and help cut down on the number of child abductions occurring through child luring.

The governor has up to 60 days to act on bills after receiving them from the legislature, which in most cases will be until Oct. 1, or after the bill automatically becomes law. The action the governor may take includes signing or vetoing a bill or making minor changes through an amendatory or line-item veto.

Deadly spotted fever found in this county

Eight cases of Rocky Mountain spotted fever have been reported in Illinois so far this year. Two cases have occurred in Union County and one each in Morgan, Richland, Tazewell, St. Clair, Madison and Sangamon counties.

Dr. Bernard J. Turnock, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, said Thursday, "Persons who live in or visit wooded and grassy areas should take special precautions to avoid ticks."

Rocky Mountain spotted fever is a serious disease transmitted to humans by ticks which have fed on infected wild animals such as rabbits, mice, chipmunks or squirrels.

SYMPTOMS USUALLY develop three to 14 days after exposure to an infected tick. They include sudden onset of fever, muscle aches, headache and irritation of the eyes.

Patients usually develop a rash on the hands, feet, arms and legs about three days after the symptoms begin.

Prompt medical attention is essential and it is important that the patient tell the physician about any recent tick bites or exposure to ticks. Certain antibiotics are effective in treating Rocky Mountain spotted fever.

PERSONS WHO ARE planning to spend time this summer camping or hiking in areas that might be tick-infested can lessen the risk of contracting spotted fever by wearing long-sleeved clothing that fits tightly around the wrists and trousers that fit tightly around the ankles; wearing high boots, leggings or socks outside trouser legs; wearing a head covering; and using liberal amounts of tick repellent.

Commonly available insect repellents which contain either diethyltoluamide or dimethylphthalate are effective against ticks.

The label should be checked to determine whether the insect repellent is an effective tick repellent, Dr. Turnock said.

CAMPERS, HIKERS and outdoor workers should check their bodies and clothing several times each day for the presence of ticks. Children should be examined every three to four hours, especially around the scalp and back of the neck.

Ticks seldom attach at once and rarely transmit infection until they have been attached for several hours.

A tick should be removed from the body with a pair of tweezers, or with a piece of paper held between the fingers, by gently flipping the tick on its back, using its head as a fulcrum.

Either of these methods of removal is preferable to using a lighted cigarette or hot match. Similar procedures should be used when removing ticks from pets. DO NOT SQUASH the tick; if it is infected, this could spread the disease. The best way to dispose of a tick is to flush it down the toilet or burn it in the fireplace.

Anyone handling a tick should wash his or her hands thoroughly with soap and water.

The wound should be cleansed with abundant amounts of soap and water. Any of the common skin antiseptic solutions should then be applied to the tick wound.

All tick bites should be cleansed and treated, as there is no way to distinguish the bite of an infected tick from a non-infected one.

DR. TURNOCK ASKED that physicians throughout Illinois report all cases of Rocky Mountain spotted fever to local or state health departments.

Last year in Illinois, 15 cases of the disease occurred but no deaths resulted from it. In 1983, there were 17 cases and two deaths.

In 1982, there were 15 cases and two deaths; 14 cases and no deaths in 1981; and in 19 cases and three deaths in 1980.

United, our community stands

Just as governmental services were created to do jointly what individual citizens could not do on their own, the United Way concept permits a community to provide non-governmental programs that benefit large numbers of people.

Starting next week, the Tri-Cities Area United Way will be launching its fall 1985 campaign to raise operating funds for member agencies to utilize during 1986.

There is nothing mysterious about the United Way. With families and groups and businesses pooling their contributions, disaster assistance is provided, and distribute to local and regional agencies, supplementing their income from other sources.

Help is given to those in need, and in a cost-effective way. Disaster assistance is provided, and other kinds of services benefit nearly every person, family and employee from Venice to Mitchell, whether through a scouting activity, a health project or some other kind of positive program. The efficiency of each agency is reviewed regularly, and changing needs for old and new services are evaluated and acted upon.

The decision-makers are not "experts" from afar, unfamiliar with this community; they are local people, who also are among those who donate funds and monitor the agencies.

As an indication of the broad scope of the United Way, the leaders of the campaign here this year represent industries, unions, women's groups, professions, finance, retail stores, small businesses, local organizations and residents.

The Tri-City Area United Way is alive and well because of the compassion, good sense and foresight of local people, pitching in on behalf of themselves and other local people. It's that uncomplicated. And the importance of all contributing a fair share is that simple and clear-cut.

Action by village appropriate

Pontoon Beach officials are right in cracking down on the Cottonwood Mobile Home Park, whose business license has been revoked after a public hearing.

The park was cited for accumulations of garbage and trash, high weeds, discarded furniture and inadequate sewer connections. Such problems remained even after compliance notices were issued, testimony showed.

For health reasons and for the objective of a decent level of living standards, it is vital that operators of such parks plow back enough of the rental income to maintain and upgrade the property.

Individual tenants need to do their part in keeping up the cleanliness and appearance of their areas, but they need officials' backing when basic services falter.

In this instance, the village government has acted to help bring about improvements at the mobile home park in the 4400 block of Division Street — and will need to consider additional steps if the situation is not remedied.

Rose an example for everyone

Pete Rose's accomplishment of last night — setting a new record for total hits by a major league baseball player — is of significance to all Quad-Citians, not just baseball players and fans.

The statistics will change as he continues his career as player-manager on the Cincinnati Reds team. With two hits last night, he has 4,193 career base hits (singles, doubles, triples and home runs) compared to 4,191 by baseball immortal Ty Cobb. Cobb required fewer times at bat but Rose required fewer years.

Non-fans do not need to remember the specific figures to be impressed by Rose's performance. He admittedly lacks much of the raw, natural talent that many athletes have brought to the sport. But he made up for whatever shortcomings he has with extra determination, practice and "hustle." He always ran, even when walking was acceptable. As the cliché says, he always gave at least "110 percent" of his skill and zeal and dogged will to win.

The moral to the story is obvious — but worth stating. Those who may feel inadequate to meet various challenges of life probably can achieve much if they staunchly persist in their efforts, constantly pursuing self-improvement goals.

Far-off dreams, "unreachable stars," sometimes — perhaps, most of the time — can be attained. Ball players, and everyone else, can prevail by trying hard, even if — after completing difficult tasks right away — they find that "the impossible" takes a little longer.

Simon and labor at odds on budget

WASHINGTON — Sen. Paul Simon and labor leaders usually are members of a mutual admiration society, but they are poles apart on a proposed constitutional amendment for a balanced federal budget.

Simon, foremost advocate of the amendment among the Senate's Democratic minority, which has been cool to the idea, has been conducting a series of 60 town meetings in Illinois to promote the proposal during the congressional summer recess.

The meetings have been targeted by the leadership of the Illinois branches of the AFL-CIO and the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

Both unions urged local members to attend and object to what AFSCME calls a "dangerous and destructive" proposal that threatens jobs and programs.

While audiences have been receptive and the tone of the objections generally has been civil, Simon said some people do get hot about the issue.

"There are a few people who get angry, but that has happened to me before," Simon said.

Rarely, however, have union members been angry with Simon. During his 10 years in the House, Simon had an average score of nearly 85 percent in vote ratings by the AFL-CIO and scored 100 percent in his last two years in the lower chamber.

The relationship has not been one-sided. Labor has backed Simon with endorsements, manpower and money. Simon got more than $350,000 from political action committees for labor organizations in his successful campaign last year to unseat the incumbent Republican senator, Charles Percy.

There is no question of the fervent opposition to the amendment by some major labor groups. AFSCME, which has led the charge against the amendment in Illinois, contends a balanced budget requirement — and, by implication, its advocates — would threaten the state's economy.

Competitive banking should be preserved

To the Editor:

A recently completed survey sent to more than 1,000 Illinois banks has reaffirmed that Illinois bankers clearly oppose legislation that would allow interstate bank acquisitions on both a regional and nationwide level.

Fifty percent of the ICB (Independent Community Banks in Illinois) membership of nearly 500 banks responded to the survey along with 32 percent of more than 500 non-member banks that were surveyed — a response of 39 percent of the banks polled, representing more than 390 banks.

Since a response ratio of 20 percent is considered very good, this survey represents a valid reflection of the majority views of Illinois bankers on the acquisition issue.

The survey results are as follows:
1) A clear majority of Illinois banks oppose regional interstate acquisitions as promoted by the Illinois Bankers Association in SB 525 now before the Illinois General Assembly; 66 percent of all respondent banks opposed regional acquisitions, including 92 percent of respondent ICB banks.

2) An overwhelming 83 percent of all respondents oppose a so-called "trigger" which would allow nationwide bank acquisitions within 2 to 5 years after regional acquisitions are allowed (93 percent of ICB banks and 71 percent of non-ICB banks oppose the nationwide trigger).

bank acquisition powers (82 percent of ICB banks and 80 percent of non-ICB banks).

Many respondents also commented that while they oppose any form of interstate acquisition authority, they also felt that regional acquisitions would only benefit a few large Illinois banks attempting to "protect their own turf."

3) Virtually all banks oppose the so-called "consumer bank" concept advanced by giant retailers such as Sears and J.C. Penney's; almost 96 percent of all banks oppose the concept, with less than 1 percent favoring it.

5) More than 81 percent of all respondent banks support an ICB-initiated amendment which would prohibit interstate bank acquisitions by an Illinois bank holding company if an acquisition would cause such institution to control more than 20 percent of Illinois' total banking deposits. The amendment would also bar an out-of-state bank holding company from acquisition activity in Illinois if an acquisition were to cause it to control 5 percent or more of Illinois' deposits. Of the non-ICB banks, more than 69 percent favor this amendment. Again, the IBA position of opposition to this amendment belies the view of most IBA survey respondents.

6) The primary conclusion that can be drawn from our survey is that Illinois bankers strongly oppose interstate bank acquisition legislation, as do statewide groups representing agricultural interests, labor, consumers, small businesses and senior citizens. The banker survey reaffirms ICB's longstanding position that interstate bank acquisition authority would lead to undesirable financial concentration, eliminate healthy competition and threaten the safety and soundness of banking. ICB urges the Illinois House of Representatives to defeat SB 525 if it is called for a vote in the October session.

We will continue the battle against SB 525 and any other interstate acquisition legislation. The preservation of our competitive, locally owned and operated banking system is the best way to assure continued availability of credit at reasonable rates. The Illinois economy will be better for it.

Astorian cites law enforcement experience

To the Editor:

The office of sheriff is extremely important to the people of Madison County. After careful consideration and consulting with my family, I have made a decision to seek the Democratic nomination for this office. Therefore, I announce my candidacy for sheriff.

I know I can successfully carry out the duties of sheriff, breathing new life into that department while upholding the high standards expected of the sheriff of Madison County.

Sheriff Emil Toffant has done an excellent job in bringing that department back to its feet. I will build on what he has done and, when elected, will make it second to none in the state.

I feel I have a grasp of the needs and wants of the citizens as to what they desire and expect from a law enforcement agency.

Having a close relationship with the officers on my department, the Granite City police, I also know and feel their wants, needs and expectations.

I make no political promises, and will evaluate situations and requirements as they arise. I do promise to deliver honesty, integrity and good law enforcement to the citizens.

Through my experience, education and administrative abilities, I feel I can diplomatically channel all my efforts to making the sheriff's department effective, respected and professional.

I shall provide an air of openness in that department that has never existed in the past.

I will serve the court system as provided by law, and seek the cooperation of all law enforcement agencies within the county in establishing a method agreeable to all in the proper transportation and receiving of prisoners and providing assistance to those agencies as needed.

Although attaining the position of sheriff is through a political process, I am now and always will be a professional law enforcement officer. I have served in all areas of that field in the past 23 years.

I have gained knowledge through working experience and the educational system in all phases of my chosen profession — from patrol work, supervisory street patrol, to commander in charge of an investigative unit, being involved in and supervising every type of investigation imaginable. I have now attained the rank of lieutenant colonel, and am presently commander of the police operations bureau.

I will outline changes that I feel need to be made as I study and evaluate every situation before making a final decision. I am proud to state that in seeking this position, I have received whole-hearted, enthusiastic support from the members of my department.

My educational background includes a certificate of proficiency in law enforcement from Belleville Area College, an associate degree in law enforcement from Belleville Area College, a bachelor of arts degree from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and nine graduate hours from the University of Virginia. I have also attended and graduated from the FBI National Academy, Quantico, Va., and the Dكتور Counter-Intelligence School, Washington, D.C.

I have served on the St. Louis Area Major Case Squad for seven years, maintaining in all areas of that field in the past 23 years.

The organizations I am affiliated with include the Southern Illinois Police Chiefs Association, Madison County Police Association, Illinois Police Officers Association, Police Benevolent and Protective Association, FBI National Academy Associates of Illinois, FBI National Academy Associates of the Eastern District of Missouri, and the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce Law Enforcement Committee.

I served in the U.S. Army from Feb. 2, 1956, through January 1958.

Utility costs harm job availability in state

To the Editor:

A front page newspaper story recently told us that, since 79, Illinois has been the top loser of factory jobs in the country.

A recent loss of steel company jobs in Granite City related to the Union Electric rate hike reminds us that factory jobs are related to utility rates.

A recent company shut down a steel plant in the Chicago area because of the high cost of power from Commonwealth Edison and shifted steel production to its plant in Ohio where utility rates were cheaper from, guess who, Commonwealth Edison.

According to the company president, a small plastics firm from Litchfield, Ill., is expanding in North Carolina because power is cheaper there.

Since electric rates are 70 percent higher in Illinois than in Michigan, we did not have a prayer's chance of getting the new General Motors Saturn auto plant.

Let's face it. High utility rates in Illinois, the highest in the Midwest, are costing us jobs.

The Illinois Citizens Utility Board and other consumer groups tried to curtail future rate hikes by asking that the new Public Utilities Act say that utility companies could not charge patrons for more than 15 percent of excess plant capacity.

This figure was too harsh to get out of the Senate committee so the new law read that, after 25 percent excess, stockholders would have to pay for the excess.

When the Act reached the House, the utilities — unhappy with the 25 percent — had an amendment proposed that killed the excess capacity limit and virtually assured higher rates when it passed by one vote.

Ironically, with businesses in the state consuming 60 percent of the power, the Illinois Manufacturers Association — and the Illinois Chamber of Commerce supported that costly amendment favoring the big utilities and betraying their majority of small business members.

Gateway BPW seeks 'Careerists'

Candidates for selection as outstanding young career woman, between the ages of 21 and 30, are being sought by the Gateway Business and Professional Women's Club.

Donna Jones, chairman of the project, said participants must be employed full-time for at least one year in her career area and be active in community service or church work. They are required to be a member of the BPW.

Candidates will be asked to write a 200-word typed autobiography and submit a 5x7-inch glossy black and white photograph before Oct. 1. They will present a three-minute talk on "Focus: High-Tech Future for Working Women" at a meeting of the club and will be interviewed by a judging panel. The winner will advance to District 14 competition.

The young careerist successful at that level will be eligible to compete at the BPW state convention, with all expenses paid. Those interested in obtaining an application or information may contact Jones at 451-7773 after 6 p.m.

The young career woman program is BPW's way of recognizing accomplishments of successful young career women while introducing them to the ideals and standards of the National Federation.

"In searching for YCW candidates, local members are afforded the opportunity to have in-depth conversations with many young women, within and outside the local organization. These women can keep BPW current on the changing role of women in society and on problems and rewards in finding a place in today's business and professional world," Jones said.

"This program, inaugurated by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Organizations Inc. in 1963, highlights the organizations of young career women. It is one of many programs sponsored by BPW to elevate the status of women."

Picketing not caused by his firm - Thomas

Teamsters Local 525, which has been suing to negotiate with area mortuaries, ordered one-day informational picketing at Irwin Chapel for funerals Aug. 26, the Press-Record was told this week.

Selected by the union as pickets for the day were Ed Werner and Dick Mizell. Although the two were listed below a photo published Aug. 29 as being employees of Thomas Mortuaries, only Mizell is a Thomas employee, Bob Thomas said.

Werner is said to have left the Thomas firm Aug. 2.

"I don't feel my business can be held responsible, since this is a union problem and has nothing to do with me. I have been in negotiations with union representatives since the last contract expired June 30," Thomas said.

A union assistant business agent was at the scene of the picketing Aug. 26 but declined to comment on when questioned by a Press-Record photographer. A union member contended no Irwin employees are members of Local 525.

Kandall Irwin was out of town at the time of the picketing. When he returned from vacation, he said he did not know anything about it.

Efforts by the newspaper to reach a union representative have been unsuccessful.

A Democrat, he pledged to travel the state presenting his ideas for a more efficiently run office.

Discrepancies

started May 1, 1985, and will end April 30, 1986.

After examination of '84-85 bank accounts and cash, the accounting firm found 17 checking accounts and nine savings accounts.

It said this resulted in inefficiencies in utilization of personnel because of the need to prepare multiple bank reconciliations. Additionally, the city may be receiving a lower rate of return on invested funds than otherwise could be obtained.

FOUR PETTY CASH FUNDS should be operated on an imprest basis but are not, the accountants said. Also, unidentified cash receipts were included in the fund. To control this account, it was suggested the city treasurer meet with various fund custodians to devise new methods.

Weaknesses noted in the library bank account included checks that were not pre-numbered, so some checks that required two signatures were found to have been signed by only one person, and funds paid out for supplies were not documented. Rental income from stores at the city's David Connolly Shopping Center is set up on a monthly fixed basis, with provision also made for increases if sales exceed specified limits. Peat, Marwick said the rent and sales are not being effectively monitored by the city to ensure compliance with the lease agreements.

ACTION AS SOON as possible is being recommended on the entire financial system of the city, since there are many needs that cannot be satisfied with any type of documentation or records.

Areas requiring immediate attention are said to include general fixed assets, interfund transactions, inventories, franchise fees, certificates of deposit, compensated absences, revenue bond indenture requirements, the policemen's pension trust fund, and compliance with public hearing procedures on use of revenue sharing funds.

situation at all."

Allen said the protest could have been handled better. He said if Crider had wanted to challenge Lahr's filing petition for this year's election, he would have had to do it within five days of the last day of filing, which ended Aug. 26. That was not done.

"I'M SURE THE SCHOOL code sets out how to do that (challenge a petition)," Allen said. "But if that's what they want, it is not our job in the state's attorney's office to handle it. Maybe they could find some way to file suit, but a protest on the petition would have to go through some other office."

Allen also passed on the matter for more personal reasons. "I don't know everybody who's running in the election," he said. "I don't really know who's running with who. But they don't know I don't know that."

"So if I went ahead and made some kind of a decision on this case, somebody would be saying that Dick is a friend of so-and-so. They might say it's because I know Ruth Lahr's husband (Guy). And it so happens I am a good friend of Harold Hillmer (who is said to be working with Crider on the protest).

"I JUST FEEL it would be better for everyone if I don't handle it." The protest was "inexpertly done," Allen said. The petition signed by 14 people was stapled onto the letter explaining the reasons for the protest, but the petition did not refer back to the letter.

"I didn't say anything about why those people were petitioning me," he said. "I'm sure Mr. Crider explained to them the matter fully and they knew why they were signing, but it really wasn't done perfectly. I could have dodged the matter completely and left it in the hands of the attorney general's office now."

Final agreement near

at Hemlock and Pine streets. That agreement will allow the township to use the land for one year, with the stipulation that the Coopers would be released of any liabilities and that the land would be purchased by permanent users or a taxing district for a reasonable fee at the end of the year.

In addition to the agreements, Nameoki Township trustees on Monday transferred $2,226 from the revenue sharing fund to the health programs fund to pay for the township's share of the well's installation.

HALL SAID he met with officials from Granite City and the MESD last Thursday. He plans to meet with them again this week to sign the agreements.

After the agreements are signed, Hall said a public meeting probably will be conducted to inform residents near the slough about the well's operation. Volunteers will be sought to test the well's effect on the water table.

The target date for operation of the well is Nov. 1, Hall said.

"THAT'S ABOUT the time of the winter rains and shows. Right now, there is no water table problem," he said.

The installation cost of the well will be shared by the three taxing bodies on an equal basis, with each share not to exceed $3,410, according to a resolution passed by the Nameoki Town Board of Trustees last July.

The resolution stipulates the well be operated for only one year because the township cannot legally take over as a continuous operation.

THE TOWNSHIP will use health funds to pay for its share of operating and maintaining the well because of the health aspect of water seeping and standing in basements in the area.

Hall said U.S. Army Corps of Engineers officials, who originally installed and tested the well last January, said the well could have some effect on 500 to 600 homes within a 10-block radius of the well.

According to the resolution, the well will operate only when the water table and water level necessitates it.

THE INSTALLATION of the well, equipment and piping is estimated to cost $65,677, with the three taxing bodies to pay $2,226 each.

The well casing, installed by the Corps when testing was performed, will be donated to the taxing bodies, the resolution indicates.

Operational costs are anticipated at $4,878 for 11 months, with each taxing body to pay $148 per month.

THE WELL was temporarily installed by the Corps between Hemlock and Pine streets last January. During a 48-hour test, the well was able to reduce the underground water level by 700 gallons per minute.

Residents in the area have approved the idea by endorsing the Granite City council with petitions asking the well be maintained.

dent have not been defined, Wilson said.

"I think that Pontoon Beach as a village should grow both geographically and professionally in an organized manner. I do not feel personally that any hasty decision should be made as to the creation of public jobs, using public funds, and selection of personnel on such a hasty basis," Wilson said.

NO ATTEMPT was made to override Wilson's veto and no comments were made regarding the action.

Swift employees return to work

By BONITA L. GOWER

Of the Journal Staff
NATIONAL CITY, Ohio — Swift Independent's 375 employees returned to work last week after the company announced it would close March 1 unless a contract can be settled.

The three-year contract for the employees, who are represented by the United Food and Commercial Workers Local 78, expired Sept. 1.

Johnny Holmes, president of Local 78, said the employees will work until the March 1 closing and then take their benefits and leave. "We have done everything we can to make the plant prosper," said Holmes. "We are not going to accept any more concessions and we don't intend to stay where we are now."

Thirty-two Hunter Packing Company employees, also represented by Local 78, continued to walk the picket line last week after they rejected an offer by the company to take a 75-cent-an-hour pay cut.

Negotiations were held for two weeks before the contracts expired, but no agreement was made and no new meetings were planned.

Bill Dillman, public relations manager for Swift, said Thursday the company is open to suggestions still willing to talk with union representatives.

"We're continuing to operate. The union has its options. They can tell their people not to go to work or they can strike. They sure don't have to work," Dillman said.

However, he said the union is not completely broken off because he is confident company and union officials have the same goal in mind — to keep the plant open.

Union employees were seeking a wage increase from their current $8.75 an hour to $10 an hour, Holmes said. The union also wanted to negotiate the return of vacation, holiday and break benefits which were given up two years ago, he added.

However, both companies asked employees to accept a pay cut to $8 an hour and Swift wanted to contract out night maintenance at the facility, Holmes said.

Prior to the union's renegotiated contract in 1983, workers at the two facilities earned $10.69 an hour, Holmes said. Swift issued a plant closing and workers agreed to try and help the company get back on its feet by taking a pay cut to $8.25 an hour, he added.

On June 24, 1985, an additional 50-cent-an-hour raise was awarded to employees, but Holmes said the company wants that back as well.

He said other benefits employees gave up in 1983, but did not plan to seek this year included a clothing allowance and time allowed to change clothes.

The employees also allowed the company to keep the workers' cost of living allowance in 1981, Holmes said, and grant it in a lump sum at the end of the year.

"We considered that a concession because it allowed them time to draw interest on the money," he said.

Swift officials told employees they would put money they saved through concessions back into the company, Holmes said. Instead, he said they bought three other plants.

"Everything was a take away. They just wanted everything," he said. "We have people losing their homes, families losing their automobiles and people can't send their children away for college in their last years."

"I've never seen it before, but some of our people are getting some parts of food stamps," he continued. "They (employees) have given up all they can give. We're saying let them close it (Swift). They are not going to use us anymore. We're tired."

Defend free exchange of ideas - Edgar

Secretary of State and State Librarian Jim Edgar marked the observance of Banned Books Week this week by encouraging Illinois citizens "to consider the ramifications of restricting the right to freedom of expression."

Banned Books Week, sponsored by the American Library Association, American Booksellers Association, American Society of Journalists and Authors, Association of American Publishers and National Association of College Stores, emphasizes the importance of a free exchange of ideas in a democratic society.

"The week is designed to focus public attention on the issue of censorship and its implications for a democratic society," Edgar said. "Censorship restricts the exchange of ideas that is necessary in a democracy. Free flow of information through libraries — institutions that are designed to provide all citizens with easy access to information — is also jeopardized by cenship."

Theme for this year's observance is "Celebrating the Freedom to Read." The week-long celebration also commemorates the 250th anniversary of the John Peter Zenger trial which established the principle that truth is a defense against libel.

Crowd favors bill on GC annexations

By JOHN STETSON

The first public hearing on a city-township annexation bill (HB 1467) attracted more proponents than opponents, but two more public hearings remain before the bill returns to the Illinois legislature.

The Sept. 4 hearing at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville (SIUE), conducted by Sen. Richard Kelly, D-Hazel Park, and Sen. Frank Watson, R-Greenville, drew more in favor of the bill than those against.

But the principal opponent represents a large group. Steven Sargent, executive director of the Illinois Municipal League, said he was saving his main thrust for the Springfield public hearing Sept. 11.

THE SENATE Local Government Committee subcommittee on annexation is holding the three hearings on the bill, which provides that "when a city which is co-terminus with a township annexes territory in an adjacent township, a referendum must be held in each township asking the voters whether the township, which is co-terminus with the city, shall annex the territory."

Sargent said that despite his group's opposition to the bill, he hoped to work out a compromise. "I still have six or seven proposals to be refined and cleared with my people, and then we can meet to work this thing out," he said.

Alton Supervisor Donald Huber, who was an Alton alderman for 16 years before becoming township supervisor four months ago, said he felt conscience-bound to oppose the issue.

WHEN HE SAID, "We have never asked anyone to annex to Alton; they have petitioned us," laughter bordering on catcalls erupted from the audience. Those presiding asked for decorum in the audience.

Huber said some "lying" had been done during testimony favoring the bill.

Others testifying in opposition to the legislation included Alton City Clerk Edward Vournard Jr. and Alton Waste Water Treatment Plant Manager Jerry Olmstead. Olmstead said, "Cities cannot be denied the right to offer services for businesses."

The list of proponents was lengthy and included testimony from George Miller, executive director of the Illinois Township Officials Organization.

"THE ISSUE regarding annexation by co-terminus city-townships is not a new one," Miller said.

"It has only been a major issue of our association for the past five years, but our organization has successfully removed the aura of mystery surrounding the unique situation."

"We do not arbitrarily oppose municipal annexation, but because of the loss in township valuation we do oppose the present statutory provisions that mandate alteration of township boundaries."

Miller also said that "in Madison County, the co-terminus cities of Alton and Granite City have annexed hundreds of acres from Chouteau, Foster, Godfrey, Nameoki and Venice townships."

Vandalabene twice sponsored previous legislation, in 1980 and again in 1981, which would have required voter approval of annexation. Both attempts were unsuccessful. Now Vandalabene is giving this bill his support.

"It has my full support and the support of many of my downstate colleagues. However, it has consistently failed in the last two general assemblies. We are making some progress. This is the first year we will conduct hearings on this issue," Vandalabene said.

The legislation has two formidable opponents, the mayors and the Municipal League.

At one point Vandalabene chided Sargent for his comment about compromising on the bill.

TESTIFYING in favor of the bill was Nameoki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs. Others speaking for it included James Sinclair, an attorney representing the Godfrey, Mitchell and Foster fire protection districts, and Herschel Beane and Robert Koeller, Godfrey Township farmers and business people.

A hearing in Peoria was held Sept. 10.

Abduction, rape attempt reported

A report of an abduction and attempted rape, occurring Aug. 29, is being investigated by Venice officers and the Madison County Sheriff's Department.

A 20-year-old Venice woman told officers she was pulled inside a dark green Cadillac auto by the driver as she was walking near the tennis courts at Lee Park, Venice, about 8 p.m. Aug. 29. The man had stopped the car alongside of her and asked if she had a match.

Her abductor drove out of Venice and stopped the car in the 100 block of Hare Street in Eagle Park, she told police. When she refused his advances, a fight started and she managed to open the passenger door.

At that point, the man grabbed her and began ripping off her clothing and beating her, she said. He dragged her across the street into a grassy area, struck her again with his fists and attempted to rape her, she said.

The woman broke away and ran to a nearby dwelling where the occupant called the sheriff's office. The woman sustained cuts about the head and face, but declined medical attention, reports said. As the victim's clothing could not be located, she was wrapped in a sheet and taken home by officers.

She described her attacker as about 6 feet, 4 inches tall, weighing 180 pounds, thin and in his late 20s. He was black with light skin and was wearing a blue silk shirt and blue and white pants.

The investigation is continuing.

Possession plea leads to one-year probation

Madison County Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill presided over the sentencing. Smith was charged July 2 after an investigation by Granite City police.

3 hired in GC school district

GRANITE CITY — Three people were employed by the school board at its Sept. 3 meeting.

Linda Aud was hired as a teacher assistant to replace Carol Farnsworth, who resigned from that post effective Aug. 26, and Donald Gray Sr. was hired as a campus monitor at the high school to replace Ed Mercer, who resigned effective Aug. 27.

Dwayne Chaney was named as the assistant golf coach at the high school.

The board also announced its second meeting date for September has been changed from Sept. 17 to Sept. 24. State law requires the proposed budget be on hand for public inspection at least 30 days before a public hearing. The budget was made available Aug. 22, so the meeting was pushed back a week.

Flag dedicated at museum

Eighty persons, including State Senator Sam Vadala, State Representative Sam Wolf, Boy Scout leaders and Friends of the Museum gathered Sunday on the grounds of the Old Six Mile Museum to take part in raising an American flag.

The colors were presented by Boy Scout Troop 46 of the Long Lake Fire Department.

The flagpole was donated by Bill Campbell and the eagle perched on top of the pole by Steve Conkovich. The flag, which had flown over the United States Capitol, was provided by Congressman Melvin Price.

The national anthem, the Star-Spangled Banner, was played by Stan Fornaszewski. Linda Koenig read "What Is a Flag?"

Mrs. Georgia Engelle, museum president, closed the dedication by pointing out that "the flag has inspired us from generation to generation, and we should develop the highest type of patriotism toward the ideals it teaches."

Linda Koenig read, "It's just a piece of cloth. That is all it is — just a piece of cloth."

"But when a little breeze comes along it stirs and comes to life, and flutters and snaps in the wind, all red and white and blue. And then you realize that no other piece of cloth could be like it."

"It has your whole life wrapped up in it — the meals you eat, the time you spend with your family, the kind of things your boy and girl learn at school, the strange and wonderful thoughts you get in church on Sunday."

"Those stars in it — they make you feel just as free as the stars in the wide, deep night."

Man enters guilty plea to reduced theft charge

Adrian J. Camp, 35, of 914 Jackson St., Madison, pleaded guilty Aug. 14 to a reduced charge of theft of under $300 value, Madison County Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill ordered Camp to pay $55 in court costs.

Camp was charged June 13 with theft of over $300 value after an investigation by East Alton police.

Luke 21:33 ... "Heaven and earth shall pass away; but my words shall not pass away."

Regardless of who we are or what we possess, we all need to know that there are some things that are unchangeable. We need them because they serve as anchors to hold us in place and keep from self-destructing.

The Bible states that man has sought out many inventions, but the end of them is the way of death. Our world moves at a fast pace and we tend to lose sight of things eternal. However, we can have blessed assurance that God's Word is eternal. It will not pass away. Jesus Christ is the same "yesterday, today and forever."

Today.

Bodnam, Gibbons and Meyer installed at annual Illinois DeMolay conclave

DeMolay, Job's Daughters, advisers and mothers attended a three-day Illinois DeMolay conclave on the campus of Western Illinois University at Macomb.

The Friday evening western barbecue followed an afternoon of sports and swimming in the pool at Western Hall. A western band played for listening and dancing after the barbecue.

The conclave officially opened Friday night in Brown Hall at the University Union, where nominations were made for state master councilor and state deputy, senior and junior councilors. Jimmy K. Stuart, the state junior councilor, withdrew from the competition for a state elected office.

Lisa Gibbons, James Stuart Chapter's sweetheart, was presented, along with 12 other chapter sweethearts, for Illinois State DeMolay Sweetheart at Friday night's meeting. She was escorted by Ralph F. McKinney Jr., master councilor of James Stuart Chapter.

A memorial service was held for those DeMolays and advisers who had died since the last conclave. William J. Mehl, a charter member and the local chapter's 5th master councilor, was included in the service; he died March 14.

Mr. Mehl served as scribe, past dean of the Egyptian Preceptory Legion of Honor, a DeMolay adviser for 32 years, past master and treasurer of Masonic Triple Lodge 835, honorary member of Granite City Masonic Lodge 877, treasurer of the Low Twelve Club, 27th high priest of Granite City Chapter 221 of the Royal Arch Masons and past deputy illustrious master of St. Clair Council 61, Royal and Select Masters.

He was past eminent grand commander of Emanuel Commandery 81 of the Knights Templar, a member of Almad Temple and the Tri-City Shrine Club, past grand lecturer of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Illinois, a knight of the York Cross of Honor (highest honor of the York Rite) and a 33rd degree Mason (highest honor of the Scottish Rite).

Following the opening meeting was a "DeMolay-Sweetheart mixer." There was a "make your own sundae" session, with ice cream and toppings, and Lisa Gibbons won the pretzel eating contest among state sweetheart contestants.

Breakfast on Saturday was in Corbin Hall's dining room, and the annual business meeting was in Brown Hall, where Jeffrey S. Johnson of Columbia was elected state master councilor.

Job's Daughters and Rainbows from both sides and assemblies throughout the state joined the DeMolays for lunch in the Corbin Hall cafeteria.

Afternoon activities included "crazy Olympics," swimming and miniature golf.

The state master councilor's banquet was held Saturday evening in the ballroom of the University Union. "Dad" Keith K. Klein, executive officer for Indians, was master of ceremonies.

The James Stuart Chapter received a first-place trophy for its chapter publication, "The Master Councilor's Voice," and a plaque for attaining 100 percent of its membership goal in 1984. Master Councilor McKinney accepted the awards for the chapter.

Beth Bodnam, a past Stuart chapter sweetheart and the reigning

Eddie Bodnam

Illinois DeMolay state sweetheart, assisted State Master Councilor Jay O'Brien of Centralia in giving the awards.

The sweetheart coronation dance was held in Brown Hall. Sherry Brent of Stanley Garrity Chapter, Tinley Park, was crowned Illinois DeMolay sweetheart by Beth Bodnam. Jacques Cummings of the Mascoutah Chapter was crowned state sweetheart representative.

A midnight candlelight service and rededication took place at Lake Ruth. Michael P. Burgess Jr., state chaplain, and "Dad" Klein conducted the service and installation.

At 9:30 Sunday morning an installation of state officers was held in the grand ballroom. Eddie Bodnam was installed at Illinois state fourth preceptor. Also installed were members of the State Council for Illinois DeMolay.

"Mom" Liz Gibbons was installed as state treasurer and "Mom" Jo Meyer as state photographer. Mrs.

Gibbons was escorted by Eddie Bodnam and Mrs. Meyer by Ralph F. McKinney Jr.

Bradley Wofford was awarded, along with six other DeMolays from other chapters in Illinois, a $200 merit award for furthering his education. This award was presented by the Illinois Council of DeMolay Mothers.

Conclave attendees were served a breakfast brunch. Trophies for athletic supremacy and "chapter of the year" then were presented.

Jeffrey S. Johnson, new state master councilor, gave his acceptance talk. Beth Bodnam, retiring state sweetheart, and Jay O'Brien, retiring state master councilor, gave their farewell addresses.

The 1985 conclave closed with O'Brien signing the Bible and the state chaplain giving prayer.

While the DeMolays, Job's and Rainbows were in sessions and activities, their mothers met separately. The local mothers' club was awarded second place as club of the year and first place for the most new members during the year. "Mom" Jo Meyer, president, accepted the honors.

Attending were Eddie Bodnam, Chris Brewer, Steve Conner, Richard Clancy, Terry Cory, Jay Hahn, Jim Jenne, Ralph F. McKinney Jr., Bryan Pritchett, Jimmy K. Stuart, Jim Wright, Charles Yarker, Beth Bodnam and her mother, Marilyn, who served as chaperone for Beth during her year's reign.

Lisa Gibbons, the chapter's sweetheart, and her mother and chaperone, Liz B. Edward Bodnam, Charlie and Jo Meyer, Jimmy E. and Mary Stuart, Beth Barr, Christie Dawson, Cindy Hahn, Stacie Hahn and Melanie Paschedag, Beth Guardian Charlotte Root and Betty Paschedag.

BETH BODNAM, left, presents a plaque marking attainment of its 100 percent membership goal for 1984 to the James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay, accepted by Ralph F. McKinney Jr., right, the chapter's master councilor. The ceremony took place at a statewide conclave at Western Illinois University. The DeMolay chapter received a first-place trophy for its publication, "The Master Councilor's Voice."

Wolf hails missing-child law signing

The governor has signed a new law aimed at streamlining the recovery of missing children in Illinois. State Rep. Sam Wolf (D-Granite City), a supporter of the measure, noted in praising the signing.

All public and private schools in the state will be issued periodic bulletins of missing children prepared by the Department of Law Enforcement.

"Schools will now be able to compare the police department's lists to their enrollment lists to discover if any missing children are attending the school," Wolf said.

"The law is a response to cases where children are abducted from their legal guardian by a stranger or even a non-custodial parent and enrolled in another school," he said. "We hope this will help expedite the recovery of missing children."

"Last year, the department set up a computerized clearinghouse of reports on missing children. These reports are channeled to service organizations and law enforcement agencies throughout the state. The information network and the bulletins represent a strong effort in Illinois to reunite all missing youngsters with their families."

Q: Although the economy still isn't what it really should be, interest rates are so much lower than they were a few years ago. I'm wondering if this is a time when purchasing through credit - taking out a loan makes sense?

A: There are times, providing you can safely budget for the payments, when buying through credit makes good sense. As an example, it may be cheaper to arrange for a home improvement loan to make needed repairs and remodel rather than move. If a new car is required for acceptance of a new job, you'll probably be making an investment in your future through the use of credit. If cash is needed to take advantage of a good opportunity, like a job interview or even a badly needed major appliance, this may be the time to sit down and talk with your banker. A word of caution: We are talking about loans from your local bank, not major card cash advances. Many credit cards have not lowered their interest rates.

In an appearance Monday in the Granite City court, his bond on the felony charge was set at $50,000. He was transferred Tuesday to the Madison County jail in Edwardsville.

Messick also pleaded innocent to a charge of unlawful possession of cannabis. A $1,000 recognizance bond was set on the cannabis charge.

Both charges resulted from an incident at 10:40 p.m. Sept. 6 when officers were called to a home in Granite City where Messick reportedly had been staying a few days.

A couple residing at the dwelling said they were having a small party in the backyard area while their two children were asleep in the living room. Messick went into the house, they related.

When a relative also went inside the dwelling, he alleged that Messick was fondling one of the children, a 5-year-old girl. The child was asleep on a couch.

The relative went back outdoors and informed the child's father, who accosted Messick as he was leaving by the front door and attempted to stop him.

Officers checked for the suspect and found Messick sitting at a Granite City bus stop.

A clear plastic bag containing a brown leafy substance allegedly was found in Messick's possession. He was booked on the cannabis charge while an investigation of the sexual abuse allegation was taking place.

To Help You See Halley's Comet

Halley's Comet is coming back! Every 76 years, just like clock-work, this celestial visitor comes to call. Astronomers are predicting that late in 1985, Halley's Comet will be visible to anyone on earth with a pair of binoculars. It will become most prominent in 1986, even visible in daylight and remain with us into the first half of 1987. Then just as magically as it appeared, Halley's Comet will leave us again until 2061.

Students SADDened by deaths, act

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
Staff writer

The No. 1 cause of death for Americans up to age 30 is not what you might think.

It's not an incurable disease. In fact it's not a disease at all. It's a combination of two practices that are part of America's lifestyle: drinking and driving.

When combined, the two often result in death — and not just for the person who has had too much to drink.

Forty-four percent of all nighttime alcohol-related fatal accidents are caused by drivers in the 16 to 24-year-old age group. In 1980, more than 7,000 teenagers lost their lives in auto accidents.

It's statistics like these, that have caused a group of Granite City High School students to take action.

The students are forming a local chapter of Students Against Drunk Drivers, a national organization whose goal is to educate students about the problem of drinking and driving.

The SADD program was started by Robert Anastas, a Massachusetts high school and college teacher, who experienced the loss of three of his team's hockey players as a result of drinking and driving.

Granite City students became involved in the SADD program last spring, when a member of the high school student government suggested a group be formed.

Last year, the group organized a "Safe Drive Home" program for students attending prom. The group received no calls for a ride and no one was injured in an accident.

"This year the group plans to kick off its SADD campaign with a meeting for students and their parents. The guest speaker will be Bill Orr, a SADD representative.

Students involved in the group say the hardest obstacle they have to tackle will be getting through to students.

Cheryl Swift said many students think the group's goal is to stop drinking.

"A lot of students I've talked to turn me off when I mention SADD — they think I'm telling them to stop drinking," she said. "But I'm just trying to get students to think before they get in their car and drive drunk."

She said peer pressure against the group, because of misinformation about their goals, has been great.

"I talked to one girl about the program when she was standing with her friends," she said. "She told me she wasn't interested and didn't want to help us. But later, when she was alone, she thanked me and said she thought the program was a really good idea."

Some of the students involved with the group have had personal losses because of drunk drivers.

"My boyfriend was killed by a drunk driver," said Swift. "And when I was a freshman, I remember reading about a local boy who was killed in an alcohol-related accident."

"I used to drink a lot, but now that I have my driver's license, I won't drink. I've seen some of my friends get drunk at parties and I've taken the keys away from them."

Ron Dillard, a teacher sponsor of the program, said he had taught a couple of students, who were killed by drunk drivers.

Another student, Rhonda Cook, said her friend's sister was killed by a drunk driver.

"I really worry about my friend because now she drinks and drives," she said.

Group member Heidi Hunt said she became involved because "the statistics scare me."

The obstacles the group is encountering aren't confined to students. Some involve high school teachers.

Dillard said some teachers are against the group because they think it condones the use of alcohol. He said other teachers are against the group using school time to discuss the drunk driving issue.

"I think once we get the support of the community, we will get the support of all of the teachers," Hunt said.

The group has received some financial support from several private individuals.

It also has received city support from Mayor Von Dee, Cruse, who signed a proclamation, naming Sept. 19, as SADD Day.

The group hopes for a big turnout of parents at the meeting.

Dillard said the parents can support the program by increasing their communications with their children and by making an effort to understand the pressures on teenagers.

Parents can also help by agreeing to a "Contract for Life," which is the main thrust of the SADD program.

The contract says the child will call the parent if he or she is in a situation where he or she has been drinking, or a friend or date who has been driving them has been drinking.

The parent agrees to give the child a ride or pay for a taxi ride home, with no questions asked until the next morning. The parent also agrees never to drive drunk.

The meetings have been scheduled for 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. on Sept. 19, in the high school gymnasium.

The group is also inviting students and parents from Venice and Madison to attend.

Granite City man pleads guilty to theft charge

Wade B. Whitford, 25, of 2404 Dewey Ave. must serve two years' probation and perform 100 hours of public service work after his guilty plea Aug. 19 to theft of over $300 value.

Madison County Circuit Judge P. J. O'Neill also ordered Whitford to pay a $300 fine, $30 in special costs and $95 in court costs. Whitford was charged July 16 after an investigation by the Madison County Sheriff's Department.

Construction on 20th St. begins Monday

GRANITE CITY — Motorists who are tired of driving around roadblocks and detours should avoid Missouri Avenue and part of 20th Street the next two weeks.

The Illinois Department of Transportation will start a repair and repaving project Monday, Sept. 16.

ED SCHULZE, acting city engineer, said the resurfacing project on 20th Street will go from Madison Avenue west to the main railroad crossing, resuming on the other side of the crossing as the route becomes Missouri Avenue. The work will continue on Missouri to West 25th Street. The repaving should begin on Monday, Sept. 23.

HE ESTIMATES the project will take two weeks to complete, if the weather is good.

those areas," Schulze said. "The streets will be completely open during the evening hours, though."

The work will be performed by MacIair Asphalt Company Inc. of Collinsville. The cost of the project is $197,000.

SCHULZE SAID the asphalt company will lay down a prime coat first and will cover it with sand. He said this initial coating will get on cars driving over it.

"They (motorists) should be careful to avoid it," he said.

Schulze said after the coating is put down and potholes are repaired, the streets will be repaved. The repaving should begin on Monday, Sept. 23.

HE ESTIMATES the project will take two weeks to complete, if the weather is good.

Granite City man to pay fine on possession plea

David Eaker, 24, of 2728 Angela Drive must pay a $2,000 fine, $200 special costs and $55 court costs following his guilty plea July 31 to possession of cannabis.

Eaker was charged April 17 after an investigation by the Madison County Sheriff's Department. Officers discovered what appeared to be 23 cannabis plants at Eaker's home while they were investigating another matter.

Meramec cools red hot Stars to tune of 4-1

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Executive Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — Weathermen offered a reprieve from the Indian summer heat wave Tuesday, but as far as Granite City Center soccer coach Larry Petri is concerned the reprieve came too soon.

Following a successful road trip in which the red hot Stars outscored their opponents 13-1 in two games, Petri's kickers came home to entertain the Meramec Junior College Warriors.

Meramec, with the help of Mother Nature's blowing winds, cooled the Stars and handed them their first setback of the season 4-1.

"LOSING 4-1 may seem like quite a loss, but we played them pretty tough," Petri said. "It was a 2-1 and then a 3-1 contest for much of the game. I didn't feel that we were really out of it until they got the fourth one."

"We made a few mistakes which cost us a few goals, but you're going to do that this early in the season," Petri said. "We'll get better."

Fourth-year Meramec coach Kevin Kelly said the Stars battled his squad tough for the first half, but that the Warriors won possession of the ball more frequently in the second half which accounted for the Meramec victory.

"WE MADE some changes in the second half and I think our people came around. We were able to get the ball to our forwards, Jeff and Charlie, and that seemed to be the difference," Kelly said.

"It wasn't an easy win. It was a one goal and then two goal (lead) game almost until the end. I felt a little better after we Jeff (Freihut) got the fourth goal."

Meramec took a 1-0 lead at the 9:49 mark when the Warrior's roaming midfielder Tom Wurdack punched a penalty kick past Stars' goalie Jeff Lantz. Wurdack was awarded the kick when George Lauria was charged with a handball in the box. Wurdack's shot was in the lower right of the goal, just out of reach of the outstretched arms of Lantz.

THE STARS battled back and at the 12:15 mark, Mike Caples slapped a crossing shot, right in front of an open Warrior goalmouth, that just missed.

It wasn't long, however, before the Stars made good on a shot attempt as Tony McFarlin, GCC's speedy forward, took a pass from Tony Valenti to tie the game at one.

The Stars' lone goal, which came at 23:37, was set up by a long goal

The score, however, remained tied for only three minutes before Meramec broke back on top.

AT 26:39, the Warriors' Dave Hubel broke through the Stars' defense and, one a one-on-one situation, slapped a shot past Lantz for the go-ahead goal. Jim Redding, a Meramec defender, picked up the assist with a beautiful, looping kick that sailed over the top of the goal and came down right to Hubel.

After Meramec regained the lead, Lantz showed his headiness — and perhaps a little frustration — as he stopped an almost definite Meramec scoring opportunity.

At the 32:12 mark, Wurdack kicked the Stars' defense and broke through for what appeared to be a sure goal. Thinking quickly, Lantz emerged out of his position at the goalmouth and tackled Wurdack, preventing him from taking the shot.

FOR HIS obvious violation of game play, Lantz was issued a yellow card and Wurdack was issued a penalty kick.

Lantz's gamble paid off, though, as Wurdack pushed the ball too far right. "Yes, Jeff had a pretty good game if it's possible for a goalie to have a good game when he's given up four goals," Petri said. "He plays pretty smart, but still I was disappointed that we gave up four goals."

In the second half, Meramec improved its play over the seemingly sluggish Stars. As even as both teams played the first half, the difference in the ballgame was decided in the second half as the Warriors just plain "beat" the Stars to the ball.

AT THE 61:29 mark, Meramec picked up an insurance goal when the speedy 5-foot-6-inch Charlie Hartung broke away to post the Warriors' third goal. Hartung's goal was assisted by Freihut, who was having a great day.

"Those two, Charlie (Hartung) and Jeff (Freihut), are really something. Aren't they?" Kelly asked hypothetically. "Two goals and an assist between the two of them. They had a pretty good game. I love 'em both."

With Meramec's third goal came the Stars' frustration and then retaliation by Meramec.

About three minutes after Meramec's third goal, the Stars' Matt Cassery was issued a yellow card for blatantly holding a Star from getting to the ball.

By the time it was over, a total of four yellow cards were issued in the game. Three of them coming in the second half.

Leading 3-1, the Meramec squad picked up its fourth and final goal of the game at the 79:06 mark.

GCC's Rob Fafoglia was penalized for tripping Hartung in the goal box. Twenty-five seconds later, Freihut picked up his second goal of the game when he booted the shot past Lantz for the score.

STATISTICALLY, it wasn't a bad game for the Stars who outshot their Meramec counterparts, they just couldn't make their shots count.

"We'd get the ball down there (near the goal)," Petri said, "and couldn't put it in the goal. We get the ball down there and couldn't finish it up with a goal."

The Stars have until Friday to work on that deficiency when they travel to Florissant Valley for a 3 p.m. game. GCC returns home Saturday for a 1 p.m. game against East Central Junior College.

Girls second in Triad Invit; Wiser gains on Lincoln's 'Pack'

By KEN PERKINS

Staff writer

ST. JACOB — Nino Fennoy, East St. Louis Lincoln's cross-country coach, was basking in the glow of his team's decisive triumph in Wednesday's Triad Invitational when a reporter shifted topics and asked about Lora Wiser of Granite City.

How long, Fennoy was asked, could Tigrettes Celis Shy and Joann Simmons hold off the Warrior senior?

In the Granite City Invitational on Saturday, Shy and Simmons, who finished 1-2 in the race, were 21 seconds ahead of fourth-place Wiser. Wednesday the pair were 1-2 again. But this time the lead was sliced to 10.

WITH THIS in mind, Fennoy chuckled and said, "She's phenomenal. She's got a very good chance of being the best runner in the area. That's no doubt."

Wiser, the gutsy senior who runs as if she's on a mission, placed fourth at the Triad meet, the second of major invitational which attracts the area's top runners.

Head coach Dave McClain, always looking for new adjectives to describe his star pupil, had some colorful mouthfuls to pass all around this time.

GRANITE CITY placed second overall thanks to strong performances by Wiser, Sheila Noel, Lisa Wiser, Faye Patton, Marianne Finn and Melody Witt, all members of the 25-and Under Club.

Noel came across second for the Warriors, ninth overall. Lisa Wiser was 12th while Patton, Finn and Witt were 18th, 19th and 22nd respectively.

Granite City collected 71 points, far out of reach of front-runner Lincoln, which tallied an awesome 20, but 46 ahead of third place Triad.

Belleville West (129) and Edwardsville (148) rounded out the top five.

"I'm pretty pleased with all the runners," McClain said of his girls. "All of them improved somewhat and that's what we want to see."

AS EXPECTED, Lora Wiser broke the race open in her usual style. With Shy and Simmons close behind, Wiser trotted away from the pack and didn't let up until the 1½-mile mark when Shy and Simmons closed in.

The Tigrettes moved past her with a half-mile left and came across only seconds apart.

For Wiser, it was another step in the right direction. "I'm not really worried about winning it all at this point," she said. "The main thing is to keep improving. I'm running better now than I did at this point last year, so I'm pretty satisfied."

McClain agreed, saying Wiser "just gets stronger and stronger as the season goes on."

"We had some good performances from Sheila and Melody, too," McClain said.

"SHEILA ran an excellent race. And Melody did well for the shape she's in. She wasn't feeling very well. So we kind of expected it."

As for the boys, Granite City placed 13th overall with 294 points. Lincoln won the team title, collecting 38 points. Centralia was second and Belleville West (147), Edwardsville (174) and Belleville East (181) rounded out the top five.

"We've got a ways to go, but their times improved," McClain said.

Play Saturday

Warriors eyeing East Side

By GREGG OCHOA

EAST ST. LOUIS — There's no need to suffocate the East St. Louis Senior High School football team with adjectives.

Past — and even present — performance speak louder than words.

"We don't really have to say too much, our kids have read and heard all about them," said Warrior coach Ron Yates.

Granite City (6-2) will need a Charles Atlas-like effort this Saturday when they invade storied Parsons Field for a Southwestern Conference football game with East Side (2-9). Kickoff is at 1:30 p.m.

"LET'S BE realistic," Yates said. "We're playing the No. 1 team in the nation. Right now we are fighting for respectability, not only on the field but for ourselves as a team."

The Flyers, winners of 28 in a row and 34 consecutive regular season games, are the top large school in the state and are rated as the top prep team in the country by the nationally syndicated newspaper USA Today.

East Side, two-time defending Class 6A state champions, finished second last year in the "mythical" high school national championship poll to Valdosta, Ga.

TO SAY the least, the Warriors have their work cut out.

"We're not intimidated (by them) as coaches," Yates said. "They play good, clean, hard football. It will be interesting to watch them just to see what they have."

Yates saw the Flyers bowl over St. Louis Soldan, a Missouri state playoff qualifier 42-0.

"They complement one another very well," Yates said. "They are all real good athletes."

Despite the loss of All-State Defensive Back Robert Cameron (a Missouri) and the defection of James Harris to Lincoln, the Flyers couldn't roll.

KERWIN PRICE switched over from running and has guided the attack. On the season Price is 9-for-19 totaling 223 yards. Price has tossed 3 TDs and has one interception.

For Granite City, Tim Hogan is 17-for-28 and 304 yards. Hogan has tossed 3 TDs, but also has three interceptions.

Hogan only completed six passes against Belleville West. "Hopefully

Smith: Trojans hope to be bullish on Waterloo Bulldogs

MADISON — For the first time in several years the Madison Trojans will enter the second week of the high school football season with a winning record.

"I have been here seven years and we never won a season-opening game, and the three years before that we didn't win any games," said Madison coach Don Smith.

"So, it has been a while." The Trojans were 32-2 winners over Columbia, will attempt to make it two straight this Friday when they host winless Waterloo. Kickoff is 7:30 p.m. at Sam Dymas Memorial Field.

"IT WAS good to get all the jitters out in that first game," Smith said. There was nothing shaky about the Trojans defense last week as Madison held Columbia to just 26 yards total offense. The Trojans also recovered four fumbles in the game.

Leading the way for Madison on offense were Darryl McCormick (16 carries, 87 yards) and Angelo Cross (11 carries, 77 yards).

Waterloo dropped its first two games before falling 14-9. The Bulldogs only touchdown came on a 75-yard kickoff return by David Mauer in the third quarter. Jeff Finch also booted a 45-yard field goal.

"They are a tough team. Their record is deceiving," Smith said of his opponent. "I was at the Dupon game and I thought Waterloo should have won it."

Dupo broke the game open in the third quarter with a 55-yard punt return by Derek Tieman.

Still, Waterloo didn't roll over. Later in the Bulldogs stayed close after stopping Dupo on the one yard line.

"THIS SHOULD be big game for us. They match up well with us on size," Smith said.

The Bulldogs have been crippled by injuries losing running back David Lutman with a broken leg in the 19-10 loss to DuQuoin. "Waterloo's only real weakness is depth," Smith said. "So, we have been working on our conditioning

Golfers outshoot Alton, East

By JAMES BLASINGAME
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Alton High School golf coach Larry Overath motored a cart from tee to green to tee at Arlington Golf Club on Tuesday night, as he watched his team compete in a triangular match with Granite City and Belleville Althoff.

Before the contest, Overath was confident that his young Redbirds would card a couple of wins against their opponents. But out on the course, Overath began to analyze each player's golf swing, and repeatedly the same question kept popping up.

"Is that a Granite City kid?" he would ask with a touch of concern.

Unfortunately for Overath, the answer in most cases was "yes."

"I thought we (Alton) were going to come out of here 2-0, but I was only going by what Boone (Chaney, Granite City assistant golf coach) told me," Overath said. "He (Chaney) said that they (Granite City) had one or two good players, but I've seen four decent players already. They're decent. Shoot, this ain't even gonna be a contest."

In the end it was a "contest," but those Granite City kids turned in a team-winning total of 161, which bettered Alton's 166 by five strokes and Althoff's 169 by eight.

GRANITE CITY'S Steve Schatz, Eldon Depew and Mike Sturman each fired 40, and Bill Gaumer added a 41 to up the Warriors' season record to 4-0.

Although pleased with the match's outcome, Warrior coach Russ Chappell and his golfers expect greater things from this experienced group of seniors and juniors.

"I'm happy with it (the win), but Billy was three shots over his goal (to average 38). Eldon was one over his goal..." Chappell said.

"Golf is a team game played as an individual, or golf is an individual game played as a team. Bill had a bad day — he three-putt three greens, but what the hell...we all do that," said Chappell. "If we stay around 160, we can beat just about anybody. We'd have to shoot around 154 to beat Edwardsville."

BEAT Edwardsville? In the world of high school golf, to even think about a win over the Tigers is next to blasphemy.

"Edwardsville in golf is like East St. Louis in football," Chappell explained. "If we shoot 154, we can beat Edwardsville. If we can do it, it would be the first time ever."

Edwardsville defeated Alton by 17 strokes earlier in the season, but if a Granite City team is capable of dethroning the Tigers, it is this Warrior squad. The reason? Depth.

Granite City has eight players with the ability to score in the low 40's, and four of those golfers can shoot in the 30's.

"That's why we're better now than in the past," Chappell said. "I used to take the first four and that's it because I couldn't get any help. Now I can get help."

CHAPPELL did get help on Wednesday night. After Depew fired a 37, Gaumer a 39, and Sturman a 41, Alan Gerard and Jeff Isenberg both carded 42's, as the Warriors clubbed Collinsville and East St. Louis in a match at Grand Marais in East St. Louis.

As for Edwardsville, the Warriors will get their opportunity to test themselves against the Tigers. This afternoon, the Warriors will host Edwardsville and Metro-East Lutheran at Arlington Golf Course.

Trans Am series comes to SLIR

FAIRMONT CITY — The SCCA Bendix Brake Trans Am series comes to St. Louis as part of the Mercury Capri Challenge at the St. Louis International Raceway, Sept. 13-15.

The Trans Am, celebrating its 20th anniversary in the U.S., features such up and coming drivers as Wally Dallenbach, Jr., Willy T. Ribbs and Tom Gloy.

Ticket prices for the Trans Am and the three other races in the Mercury Capri Challenge racing weekend (Goodyear Formula 200, SCCA Volkswagen Cup and the Lucas Challenge) are $5 for Friday, Sept. 13; $5 for Saturday, Sept. 14; $10 for Sunday, Sept. 15; or $15 for the entire weekend.

RACING fans may obtain a $4 discount off the price of a Sunday ticket and $5 pit pass by purchasing tickets in advance at participating St. Louis area Mobil stations. In addition, following the St. Louis Cardinals game with the Cincinnati Bengals, Sunday, Sept. 15, football fans displaying a ticket stub from the game will receive a special half-price discount off a general admission ticket for the Trans Am race.

St. Louis International Raceway (SLIR) is located just five minutes from the St. Louis Arch at the junction of Interstate 55-70 and Illinois Route 203 (Exit 4).

THE GRAND marshal of the Trans Am pre-race parade will be Edsel Ford III, general marketing manager of Ford Motor Company's Lincoln-Mercury Division and grandson to company founder Henry Ford. In conjunction with Ford's visit, Lincoln Mercury will unveil its newest car line, the Sable. A four-door Sable sedan will be on display at SLIR throughout the race weekend.

Dallenbach, the 22-year-old son of Wally Dallenbach, Sr., currently leads the 1985 Trans Am Series by 25 points. He finished fourth in the 1984 Trans Am championship.

MUCH OF Dallenbach's early road racing experience came in the VW Rabbit Bilstein Cup. He also raced sprint cars and a Can-Am 2-liter car. He won his fourth Trans Am event of 1985 at Mosport, Sept. 8, edging out teammate Ribbs by less than one second. The elder Dallenbach made quite a name for himself in Indy car racing in the late 1960s and early 1970s.

Tim will be a little more accurate, this weekend," Yates said.

Hogan's main target this season has been his twin brother, Jamie. He has 11 receptions for 243 yards in the Warriors' first two games. Three of those grabs went for scores.

OFFENSIVELY, Granite City is averaging almost 12 points per game. The Warriors will have its starting backfield in action as both Ron Owens and Pat Keeling are back after sitting out last week.

"Having those two back in there should make big difference," Yates said.

McCLAIN got solid performances from freshman Mike Patterson, who clocked in at 18:07, good for a runner of his caliber.

"They all gave good efforts," McClain said.

"I'm more pleased with the entire team than I was in Granite City. The first meet is always a wait and wonder thing because you want the kids to fill the race out, see what they can do."

"We're still working on a mileage base for the boys and that will come around later," McClain added.

"WE'LL BE putting in a lot of miles in the future. As soon as we build up some of that endurance, their times will drop."

The Warriors will travel to Mt. Vernon Saturday. It will be their first flight competition, a unique meet that gives all scoring runners a Yates praised the offensive line's work last week against West, however, the coach is concerned about his defense.

Granite City has allowed almost 24 points a game. The Flyers are averaging a whopping 48.5 points a contest.

"OUR DEFENSE has been playing very passively right now," Yates said. "They are not play aggressive or tenaciously, and I really don't know why."

Marshall, who intercepted a pass against Columbia, also fired a 74-yard touchdown pass to Reggie Young.

Last season Waterloo posted a 4-5 record (3-2 in the Cahokia Conference. In the only meeting of 1984, the Bulldogs won 22-8.

ed the Warrior linebackers and defensive backs to make a lot of tackles. To correct the problem, the Warriors will be making some defensive adjustments.

"Our goal is still to stop the big play," Yates said. "If they do score we would like them to have to go a long way and use up a lot of time, not by getting large chunks of yardage."

East St. Louis is averaging over 200 yards total offense a game and has outscored its two opponents 97-9.

"THEY REALLY don't have any glaring weakness," Yates said. "Their passing game is not the same last year after you take away Cameron."

The game against East Side will be the second of three straight SWC games for Granite City. If there is one thing the Warriors hope to accomplish, it is to erase the memory of last year.

In the Warriors' first game after the teachers' strike, East Side blasted Granite City 52-0.

"I don't really have to say too much about it," Yates said. "I'm already using it as motivation."

YATES realizes the task that lies ahead for his team. Right now as he tries to reshape the football program at Granite City, he is trying to earn some respect.

Other than a win against East Side, Yates would like nothing more to gain the Flyers' respect Saturday afternoon.

"That's really the key word," the coach said. "We have to play people close before we are going to go anywhere. We have to take pride in our own personal achievement, that everybody has done the best they can, and let the chips fall where they may on the scoreboard."

Former GCHS Coach Sullivan becomes EIU famer

By AL BARNES

Andy Sullivan, who wrote a brilliant page in the pages of Granite City High School athletic history, will be one of nine former Eastern Illinois University's former stars inducted into the EIU Hall of Fame at the Panthers' football home opener this Saturday, Sept. 14.

The ceremony will be between the halves of Eastern's game with Indiana State University.

Another man, one of Eastern's most faithful boosters in all sports, Carl Koerner, is one of Effingham's businessmen and civic leaders, is being honored for his support and activities in the Panthers' Club.

The nine ex-Panther greets in addition to Sullivan are: Odgen Brainard, Charleston; Ray DeMoulin, Decatur; James Gardner, Springfield; Okey Honefenger, Pana; Lloyd Ludwig, Effingham; Louis Stivers, Carlinville; Lloyd Thudum, Charleston; and Errett Warner, Lawrenceville.

The popular Sullivan, who was a four-letter winner at Eastern, starring in football, basketball, baseball and track came to Granite City as head coach in both football and basketball in the 1957-'58 school year.

His '58 grid team posted a 6-3-1 season; co-captains of that initial football team were Fay Stagner and Roy Logan, and Sullivan was assisted by Joe Fedora and Al Lewis. His first game squad, paced by juniors Rich Williams and Bobby Price, came through with a 10 and 21 season.

But the following year, both the football team, which was co-captained by Kenny Davis and Bud Strohede, posted a 5-4 record.

The Warriors '58 team, one of the best in the school's history, was again paced by Williams as Granite racked up a 26-6 mark, including a heartbreaking loss to West Frankfort High in a sudden death overtime.

In 1962, Sullivan gave up his coaching duties in football and Al Lewis took over. In '65 Ralph Sackett, a former Collinsville native and cager, picked up the basketball reins from Andy. Until his retirement in 1979, Sullivan served as a social science teacher.

He then moved to Deltona, Fla., where he now lives.

At Eastern, as listed, he starred in four sports, winning a grand total of 13 letters from 1942 through 1946.

He was a three-time all-conference selection in basketball and earned the IIAA (Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference) Most Valuable Player honors as he led the league in scoring during the 1944-45

YMCA begins swim team practices

The Tri-City Area YMCA swim team has begun practice for the 1985-86 season.

Practices are held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. Swimmers are learning the four basic strokes and preparing for the first meet of the season to be held Oct. 13 at Lewis & Clark Community College.

All boys and girls ages 6 to 18 years are eligible to participate and are encouraged to try out for the team.

"We had several swimmers qualify for the state meet last season," according to Kris Toutsaint, assistant coach of the team. David Motzer is the head coach.

According to Motzer, the YMCA emphasizes fun and participation by all, rather than winning at all costs.

Any boy or girl interested in participating may try out for the team during a regular practice session. The YMCA is located at 2001 Edison in Granite City.

School leaders urged to expedite reforms

By ALAN SCULLEY

Like a fine wine, the education reform package of 1985 has the ingredients to be a vintage product, Ted Sanders, state superintendent of schools, said Sept. 3.

It will now be up to state and local education officials to carry out the reforms so they can live up to their potential, he said.

SPEAKING AT SIUE to officials from area school districts, Sanders discussed some of the 169 initiatives contained in the education reform package.

Like the process of grading a wine, there will be three components used to judge the quality of the 1985 education reforms, Sanders said.

The first standard will be the ingredients, the second the maturation of the product and third, the product's enduring appeal.

"At this point, only the ingredients, of the education reforms can be judged. Maturation is what you and I can do together," Sanders said.

HOW WELL the reforms "mature" into effective policies will depend on whether the state superintendent's office and local education officials "responsibly catch the vision" of the reforms and carry them out.

A key in judging the enduring appeal of the reforms will be how well students perform in the future, he said.

"It seems to me there are two real challenges facing you and me today," Sanders told the administrators.

One will be to quickly and responsibly implement the legislation, he said. The session was not meant for study of the reforms, but as a start toward putting them into action.

THE SECOND challenge will be to sustain the reform effort.

"We have a down payment to that agenda (of education reform), with substantial balloon payments to be made," Sanders said.

Sanders discussed several major reforms.

One is accountability for a student's achievement. The legislature directed schools to "develop assessment techniques" to measure the performance of students at four grade levels.

Still to be decided are the exact procedures schools will use to meet this initiative, he said.

POLICIES TO PREVENT advancing students to the next grade level if they have not met learning standards are also part of the reform.

Procedures for identifying students who have failed to learn—and providing programs to correct their deficiencies—still must be put in place, Sanders said.

Improving a child's preparation for first grade is also addressed in the legislation.

Schools are authorized to provide full-day kindergarten as well as alternative programs to prepare youngsters for first grade.

ANOTHER AREA of reform deals with the quality of school staffing. The reform calls for pre-training of teachers, requiring students entering teaching to show they are literate, tests prior to certification showing that teaching students are proficient in subjects they will teach, and additional incentives for staff development.

Programs to evaluate the performance of teachers are also contained in the legislation.

One provision would allow dismissal of teachers who have failed to correct "unsatisfactory work performance," Sanders said.

"The quality of schools very much depends on the quality of people who staff them," he told the group.

A CONTROVERSIAL part of the legislation involves consolidation of smaller districts, Sanders said.

The reform package calls for local groups to be formed to study the structure of their schools and make consolidation proposals.

Residents of affected districts would then vote on whether to approve these consolidation proposals. Sanders said school officials will be asked to recommend whether their emotions in studying consolidation of districts.

They should have what is best for the students in mind in developing consolidation proposals, he said.

A FUTURE TOPIC for state legislators will be establishing a new formula for state funding of schools.

The 1985 reform package calls for the current funding formula to expire in 1987, Sanders noted.

He said his office will be helping local districts with the reforms.

Ryan visits area's Build Illinois sites

Lieutenant Governor George H. Ryan traveled to the Metro East area Monday to meet with local officials and review two "add-on" projects contained in the Build Illinois package passed this summer by the state legislature.

Ryan was named by Gov. James Thompson in July to head the Build Illinois review team, responsible for reviewing 168 projects not part of the governor's original Build Illinois plan.

For the first year of the program, the legislature approved $380 million in projects but only $280 million in funding is available. Ryan's team will make recommendations as to which projects should be funded.

"Today's visit will help our Build Illinois team determine how well these specific projects fit within the overall scheme of the Build Illinois effort. We want to assess such aspects as actual need for the project, its potential contribution to long-range economic development, and its merits compared to all the other add-ons," Ryan said.

"We want to approach our review of all the projects with open minds, but at the same time everyone needs to recognize that, unfortunately, there are more projects and funding requests than there is money."

First stop of the day was in Collinsville, at the proposed site of a $1.1 million sewage plant on Simpson Street between the northeast corner of the Fairmount Race Tract and Interstate 70. Accompanying Ryan were State Representative Ron Stephens, sponsor of the request, and Ken Keene, city manager for Collinsville.

Ryan next went to Forsyth Developments, an apartment and shopping center complex under construction in Fairview Heights. Senator Frank Watson has requested $200,000 in Build Illinois money for the area, to provide a sewage extension of the Caseyville Township sewage line.

Ryan noted there were several other Build Illinois projects in this area, all of which will come under consideration as part of the team's efforts to arrive at funding recommendations for the governor. The team is composed of members of the governor's cabinet and staff.

Burglary plea results in probation, jail term

A Granite City man who pleaded guilty to the burglary of Walker's Jewelry and Gift Shop has been ordered to serve two years' probation, spend three months in the Madison County Jail and pay $90 in court costs.

Robert G. Fisher, 21, of 2134 Adams St. pleaded guilty and was sentenced Aug. 16 by Madison County Associate Judge Edward G. Ferguson.

Fisher was charged Aug. 7 after he was arrested by Granite City police at 19th Street and Niedringhaus Avenue in connection with a burglary that day at the jewelry store, located at 1237 19th St.

Georgetown plat put on hold

By SUSANNE INDELCATO
Staff writer

PONTOON BEACH — A resubdivided plat of Georgetown Drive is on hold while village officials make sure the subdivision is in compliance with village codes.

The plat was resubmitted to the Village Board Tuesday after being denied by the board Aug. 29. At that time, village trustees objected to the plat because it did not show curbs and gutters for drainage.

The plat submitted Tuesday was accompanied by a drawing of the curb and guttering to be installed around the cul-de-sac at the end of Georgetown Drive in Lakeview Estates.

But some trustees still objected to the subdivision of lots on the street. The plat shows eight lots instead of the original six around the cul-de-sac.

Trustee Lou Whitsell made a motion that the resubdivision be denied. "If you change eight lots to six lots, it will be inconsistent with the neighborhood because the houses will be smaller," he said.

Darrell Layman, the developer of homes along Georgetown, said the houses would be the same size as other homes along the street.

"The lots are smaller," Whitsell said. Layman said the lots are 6,000 square feet, the minimum required by the village's building codes.

Trustee Don Rea agreed with Whitsell. "We've got some recent purchasers of homes who were led to believe there would be no additional homes (at the end of Georgetown Drive)," he said.

A lack of parking around the cul-de-sac also was cited by Whitsell. "There's no need to change the subdivision," Whitsell said. "It was already subdivided once."

The trustees then voted to table Whitsell's motion while the village's consulting engineer checks the subdivision to make sure the lot sizes are in compliance with village codes. Whitsell voted not to table the motion.

As for the chipping and sealing of Georgetown Drive, Village Board President Glen Wilson said the road was ready for chipping and sealing last week. C.D. Peters has been notified that work on the road can begin, he said.

Pontoon Beach has a year-old contract with Peters to chip and seal Georgetown Drive at a cost of $4,000. Village officials have said Peters was waiting for Layman to grade the road before beginning work.

Homeowners along Georgetown Drive have attended numerous Village Board meetings to urge the trustees to promptly chip and seal the road. Rains have washed out the road on several occasions, they said.

HEALTH REPORT

A method for finding owners of properties with health violations was requested by village health officer Bob Douglas.

Douglas said he has been unable to locate the owner of a vacant house at 4180 Division St. Because he does not know the owner's address, he cannot serve him with a health violation notice.

Village attorney Keith Jensen said the police chief would help Douglas find the owner.

POLICE DISPATCHER

The trustees gave Police Chief Chel Bulew permission to hire a part-time dispatcher. One of the part-time dispatchers, Danny Harrison, has left the department.

MAN STRUCK BY BALL BAT

Tracey J. Epperson of Edwardsville said Sept. 10 he was standing in a driveway at 2322 Delmar Ave. when five men carrying baseball bats approached him. One man hit him in the head, knocking him to the ground, and then the man struck him all over his body. The men fled in two cars parked on the street. Police noted Epperson had a cut on his head and reported pain in his left leg.

Trustees get life insurance

By SUSANNE INDELCATO
Staff writer

NAMEOKI — Employees of Nameoki Township will be covered under a different hospitalization insurance plan, and trustees will now be included in a life insurance plan, following action by the Town Board of Trustees Monday.

United of Omaha, part of Mutual of Omaha Insurance Co., approached the township last month about hospitalization and life insurance. The town board voted to change to the United of Omaha plan Monday.

The township's current insurance policy, carried by Mutual Benefit Life of Kansas City, includes a $300 deductible clause and requires the employees to pay 20 percent of the first $5,000 of their hospitalization. The plan expires in October.

The United of Omaha plan, Township Supervisor Harry Briggs said, costs about $100 per month less than the current policy. It has a deductible of $100 and requires the employees to pay 20 percent of the first $2,500 of their hospital bills.

The new plan also will provide a $15,000 life insurance policy for each township trustee. That plan will cost the township a total of about $19 per month for the four trustees.

TAX COLLECTIONS

Nameoki Township property tax receipts and disbursements totaled $2,668,712 this year, Collector Steve Isenburg reported. That is about $300,000 more than the amount received and disbursed last year, he said.

Isenburg's tax collecting duties for the year ended Aug. 31. Any additional tax payments must now be paid to the Madison County treasurer.

Of the tax monies received this year, approximately $250,000 will go to the township. School districts get the largest portion, about $75 million.

ROAD DISTRICT

There is a problem with garbage trucks tearing up the curbs along Hennock and Pine streets, Highway Commissioner Lee Adams reported Monday. He said the trucks are pulling up over the curbs.

Nameoki township attorney, Jay State Jr., told Adams to contact the garbage collectors and tell them that they will be billed for any damage to the curbs along the streets.

Blacktopping has been completed on several township streets, including Whippoorwill Lane, Harrison Street and Arlington Street in State Park Place, Adams said.

Drainage projects are almost completed along Warnock Avenue and Breckenridge Lane, he said.

BUS REPORT

The township's final report on its bus service was approved Monday. The report showed 438 passengers used the service in August. The bus traveled 2,322 miles last month, for average daily mileage of 10.6 miles.

The Agency for Community Transit, part of the Madison County Transit District, now operates and maintains the bus service. The trustees voted to turn the township bus service over to ACT last month.

Health club, tanning spa subject of zoning hearing

A request for a special use permit to operate a tanning spa, massage parlor, health club and "similar personal service shop" will be the subject of an on-site hearing at 11 a.m. Sept. 30.

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will hear the request from M.J. Rogers, purchaser, who wants to put the health club at 104 John Street in Nameoki Township. The property is zoned as a B-4 wholesale business district.

Earlier on-site hearings are set for Sept. 25.

The board will meet at 9 a.m. that day to hear a rezoning request from Charles Lambird, owner. He wants to rezone a tract of land from an R-4 single family residence district to a B-4 wholesale business district so he can use a garage to work on equipment.

The property is located at 9201 Collinsville Road in Nameoki Township. At 9:35 a.m., the board will hear a request from Virgie Baugus, owner, for a special use permit to continue the use of a mobile home for a caretaker and watchman for the Midwest Motel.

The property is located in a B-2 general business district in Chouteau Township, behind the Midwest Motel off of Old 66 By-Pass, adjacent to the Chouteau Township highway garage.

Stress management classes being taught

St. Elizabeth Medical Center is offering a series of classes on stress management every Wednesday through Sept. 25. Classes meet in the President's Room from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the medical center and are taught by Bob Turck, an SEMC social worker.

Topics include the definition of stress, ways to recognize "the stressors in our own lives," learning and practicing techniques of managing stress, time management, rational thinking, and various methods of relaxation. Cost of the series is $45 per person and $22.50 for SEMC associates. Participants receive a variety of materials to keep and use for managing daily stress.

Free shade trees offered by Arbor Day Foundation

The National Arbor Day Foundation is giving 10 free shade trees to people who become Foundation members during September, 1985.

The free trees are part of the Foundation's effort to promote fall tree planting throughout America. A sugar maple, weeping willow, red oak, green ash, thornless honeylocust, pin oak, silver maple, tulip tree, European mountainash and red maple tree will be given to members joining during September. The 6- to 12-inch trees will be shipped between Oct. 15 and Dec. 10. They will be sent postage-paid with enclosed planting instructions.

These trees were selected because they provide shade and beauty, and a variety of forms, leaf shapes and fall colors, according to John Rosenow, executive director. They are guaranteed to grow, or they will be replaced free of charge.

The nonprofit organization is working to improve the quality of life by encouraging tree planting. The Foundation will give the 10 free trees to members contributing $10 in September.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, $10 should be sent to SHADE TREES, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Ave., Nebraska City, Neb. 68410, by Sept. 30.
